Bachelor of Education (Honours) (Primary) - General Studies (Five-year Full-time) 小學教育榮譽學士 - 常識 (五年全日制)

Programme Aims

General Studies is a core subject in Hong Kong primary schools, with most primary school teachers required to teach this subject. It is also an important vehicle for Civic, Moral and Sex Education. At present, The Education University of Hong Kong is the major provider of a full-time degree programme aimed at training prospective General Studies teachers for primary schools.

Taught as an interdisciplinary subject, the General Studies Major aims to prepare outstanding primary school teachers who:

- possess the generic skills (e.g., problem solving, critical thinking, creativity, study skills, communications, information technology, etc.) that are essential for learning in the Information Era and for making sense of social and environmental issues;
- are well-acquainted with the spirit and methods of inquiry;
- are well-equipped with the social and scientific inquiry skills that come into play in the teaching and learning of General Studies;
- have the competence to ride the tide of the new curriculum reforms; and
- are able to play a significant role in curriculum development in the school context.

Student Sharing's

It seems that it is easy to teach General Studies. However, this becomes challenging under the rapid development of STEM and value education. Through the teaching practice and the variety of courses, I could be equipped to be a more all-around teacher and ready to teach.

Graduate from BEd(P) - General Studies programme

Studying the General Studies at EdUHK was a fulfilling and fruitful experience. Through the programme, I discovered that General Studies is a mysterious, intriguing and powerful subject. It not only developed my interests and abilities but also provided an important platform for me to explore the world. Most importantly, professional and enthusiastic professors and instructors who always give us incredible insights and support. Without studying this programme, I wouldn't be the
